

SHRED!

How to Play:

- As soon as you run the game the screen will display and you will immediately be in play
- Use the arrow keys to move the skier sprite and dodge the obstacles that continuously move up
- Snowmen are not obstacles, if you run into a snowman you will score a point
- The more obstacles you hit (trees, red flags, and blue blockers) the worse your health gets
- Health is calculated by the amount of obstacles you hit, and your health lessens as you hit more obstacles
- Once your health runs out you die and the game ends
- The game over screen will display your score
- If you would like to add a player you can do so at any point that you are alive
- You can compete against the second player to see who can score more points
- The second player has the same functionalities as the original player, but you move the second player with the WASD keys
- When the first or second player dies the game ends and displays both players scores and who won the game
